Hello my darlings ?

Weird, I know. It's my own sort of code, "Ha! / Hm?" whatever. You have had a couple of good days. We had Parent Conferences a couple of nights ago and you guys were great. Your teachers are all so happy with you. Emma, you are truly becoming - you fight it, but everyone is so happy with you. Dramas, writing in Humanities, you get physics credit or some such thing - and Math - Wow - Algebra 2 next year. But you fight it. I let your teachers know you didn't want to go there next year, but it is not an option. I think you feel better. Brandon, you don't know it yet, but Syd said you got picked by the actor guy for from your rehearsal. We'll see if they follow through - that's what she whispered in my ear. In the mean time, you two are doing well with each other. Love Mom.
