

07-03-06

Hey Bug -

You fell asleep on the living room floor tonight. I went to give you a kiss good night, which you make difficult usually. You were so asleep - your jaw was relaxed and you were truly asleep - you looked so pure and open. I rarely get to see that "you". I was able to give you a kiss good night and admire how great you are when your not worried about the "stuff" that consumes you. I love you - mom.